United Church Members Will Dedicate Flags

At the morning service, 10:30, in the United church tomorrow, three flags will be dedicated. The Elias Howe, Jr. Post of the G. A. R., will assist, marching in to the strains of "The Song of God Goes Forth to war." The national standard has been given by this Men's club of the church and is a handsome silk flag. The state flag is a handsome silk flag. The standard, also used on the pulpit platform, has been presented by the Wednesday Workers and the Young Women's guild. The large bunting flag to be raised over the front door at the end of the service, has been presented to the church by The Young Men's club.

Dr. W. H. Day will preach a patriotic sermon and the music will be especially appropriate to such a service. Mrs. Lena Mason Barnsley, soprano, will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" at the dedication and raising of the flag outside the church. Another hymn, "America the Beautiful," by Katherine Lee Bates will be used as a recessional. This service will be especially impressive and beautiful in this time of greatest anxiety and need for courage.

Dr. Day has invited Elias Howe, Jr., Post, No. 3, G. A. R., to take part in the ceremonies. All members of the Post are requested to meet at G. A. R. headquarters in full uniform at 10 a. m. and march in a body to the church.

The Men's assembly of the First Methodist church, Fairfield avenue and Broad street, will meet at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow. Dr. Walter R. Brown of the health department will speak at the assembly rooms on "The Price of Health."

Gold to the amount of $125,000 was withdrawn from the Sub-Treasury for shipment to Spain.

THRIFT BONDS TO SUPPLEMENT SAVINGS BANKS

Following the announcement of the approaching sale of Thrift Bonds in this city, a banker who is deeply interested in the encouragement of saving raised certain objections to the plan of the National Thrift Bond Corporation.

Briefly, the points made are that 3 per cent. paid as interest on Thrift Bonds is too low, that the owner of a bond who lost it either through carelessness or theft would have no protection, and that in times of financial stress it would be difficult to realize cash on them. For these reasons, the thrifty citizen would do better to patronize the savings bank.

These objections were called to the attention of Ingalls Kimball, president of the National Thrift Bond Corporation, and this is the answer he made: "Substantially all of these points have come up before, in the time when our plan was being worked out. We have frankly said that we can see no reason why savings bank depositors who use the road to the bank regularly should buy Thrift Bonds. We don't expect them to—indeed, if they ask us, we shall certainly advise them to keep their money on deposit where it earns 3 1/2 per cent. or 4 per cent."

"If we thought the savings banks were adequately caring for the thrift needs of everybody, there would be no National Thrift Bond Corporation in existence. Our belief is that there are many thousands of owners of $10 bills who for one reason or another don't know the savings banks. They do know the stores; and we hope by putting $10 Thrift Bonds of an absolutely safe character on sale in many thousands of retail establishments that a great many of them will learn not only to save but also to invest."

"How is a Thrift Bond owner to be protected against loss in case of theft, or if he loses the bond? May we ask how the owner of a $10 bill is protected aside from his own prudence and the criminal laws of our country, backed by the police force?"

"Can the owner of a Thrift Bond realize cash on his bond in time of stress? Yes—to the extent that any depositor in the soundest savings bank in the country could realize cash. As a matter of fact, with national distribution, it is hard to picture a financial panic so severe that the demand for cash for Thrift Bonds in one section of the country could not be offset by resale to buyers in other sections where the stress would be less severe."

"Normally, we do not expect that many Thrift Bond owners will care to sell. When they do, the discount from purchase price will amount to six months' interest. How many savings bank depositors who close out their accounts lose almost as much? In emergencies, the bond owner can, of course, borrow money from a bank, and the net cost is less than the interest loss on with-drawn savings deposits."

"One more word. Savings bank investments are admirably safeguarded by law. But they are not so well protected as are the investments of the National Thrift Bond Corporation—the basis of all Thrift Bonds—whose by law are limited to municipal and other tax-secured government obligations."

VAIN HUNT MADE FOR ALFREDO ZAYAS

New York, April 14.—Alfredo Zayas, defeated candidate for the Presidency of Cuba, who was reported to have arrived in New York, maintained a strict incognito, revealing that he had no knowledge of his whereabouts. Some of them even expressed doubts as to whether he had really arrived here. The local News Bureau maintained by the Republic of Cuba had word that Zayas left Havana last Monday, arrived in Key West, and came here by rail Wednesday.

Zayas took no part in the recent Cuban revolution, although he was the candidate of the Liberal party which engineered it. It was said that he was not molested by the Cuban Government at the time, by order of President Menocal, to whom he had given assistance previously in the organization of the Liberal representatives.

It was reported at one time that Zayas was hiding in the German Consulate during the revolution, but this could not be substantiated. The Cuban News Bureau said today that the government was not interested in the movements of Zayas, and did not have him under surveillance. It is thought that the object of Zayas' present voyage to this country might be to retire for a time from Cuban politics.

It was also suggested that he might try to persuade certain of the Cuban Liberals in this city, such as Orestes Ferrara, to return to their country.
